Terms and conditions

All financial members of SSAA must complete the Participant Requirements of the SSAA Farmer Assist Program prior to registering for this program. Members of SSAA Conservation and Wildlife Management (CWM) Groups who have undertaken Hunter Accreditation Certification are not required to complete the SSAA Farmer Assist Proficiency Requirements. This certification is sufficient to cover the proficiency required.

CWM members are still required to familiarise themselves with The Complete SSAA Farmer Assist Program Booklet and agree to abide by the SSAA Farmer Code of Practice.

Farmers have the sole responsibility to determine the suitability of those they invite onto their property to undertake a wildlife management activity. Farmers should discuss all necessary issues and conditions of entry with members prior to granting access to their properties. Farmers maintain their right to change or cancel permission to SSAA members to access their property at anytime and without explanation.

SSAA members are covered by the Association's Public Liability and Group Personal Accident insurance policies whilst participating in any lawful recreational shooting activity. SSAA recommends that farmers who are unsure about their own liability cover contact SSAA Insurance Brokers for advice and policy assessment.
